About our Agency

BARC Developmental Services is a nonprofit human service agency located in Bucks County, which offers programs and services to men, women, and children with intellectual disabilities and Autism. Our programs include:

Early Intervention Services are designed to help families and children with intellectual disabilities and autism. We provide homebased services for children birth through three years of age.

Residential Services provides a broad spectrum of residential living options in furnished homes and apartments throughout Bucks County and in parts of Montgomery and Lehigh counties. Four residential living options are available and include Intermediate Care Facilities, Community Living Arrangements, Unlicensed Residential Habilitation and Life Sharing.

Vocational Services provides training, employment, and income in two production facilities and through the Joint Opportunities for Business and Society (JOBS) program. The Community Participation Supports (CPS) Program provides opportunities for our folks to become involved in community inclusive activities of their choice with staff supervision, and facility based programs. In addition, Vocational Services offers a Seniors program for the older adult of retirement age who wishes to remain active, an adult daycare program for adults who are not ready for work, and a training program for adults with autism.
